Arts Alive is the West Virginia Department of Education’s annual event to showcase outstanding visual and performing arts students. The work included in Arts Alive is selected from: state arts conferences, festivals and exhibits throughout West Virginia; a competitive submission process; and/or by invitation. In 2021-2022 Arts Alive enters its sixteenth year. Students perform and exhibit work before an audience of students, family members, educators, policy makers, arts and education advocates and philanthropists in a major performing arts venue.

Arts Alive is dedicated to arts education in West Virginia and remains committed to provide a venue where the arts are paramount, inspired teaching is honored, and the work of young artists is celebrated.
West Virginia Seal of Biliteracy
What is the Seal of Biliteracy

• Nationally recognized student award

• Student must demonstrate proficiency in English and at least one other language

• Designated on the transcript
Why do we want the Seal of Biliteracy?

• Multiple universities recognize the Seal of Biliteracy and award credit to students.
• The study of languages prepares students with 21st Century skills that will benefit them in the labor market and global society.
• The recognition of the Seal of Biliteracy provides employers with a method of identifying people with language and biliteracy skills.
• The study of languages creates individuals with a positive disposition toward others.
• The seal validates student accomplishment that demonstrates a specific skill level.

West Virginia State Math Field Day

The West Virginia State Mathematics Field Day Organization independently sponsors West Virginia State Math Field Day. The Math Field Day Guide states Math Field Days are designed to:

- Stimulate greater interest for mathematics;
- Recognize students who excel in mathematics;
- Provide the opportunity for interaction of peers with common interests and/or abilities.
“Each region will decide how to select its participants from all public, private, parochial, and home schools within that region. (West Virginia is currently divided into eight regions.)

- There will be two areas of competition: one for grades 4-9 and one for grades 10-12.
- Each region will provide a total of eighteen students (three from each grade level) in grades 4-9 and a total of ten students in grades 10-12.”

Celebrate Freedom Week

- W.Va. Code 18-2-9 (e) A full week of classes during the week selected by the county board of education shall be recognized as "Celebrate Freedom Week". The purpose of Celebrate Freedom Week is to educate students about the sacrifices made for freedom in the founding of this country and the values on which this country was founded.

- Celebrate Freedom Week must include appropriate instruction in each social studies class which:
  - (1) Includes an in-depth study of the intent, meaning and importance of the Declaration of Independence, the Emancipation Proclamation and the Constitution of the United States with an emphasis on the Bill of Rights;
  - (2) Uses the historical, political and social environments surrounding each document at the time of its initial passage or ratification; and
  - (3) Includes the study of historical documents to firmly establish the historical background leading to the establishment of the provisions of the Constitution and Bill of Rights by the founding fathers for the purposes of safeguarding our Constitutional republic.

- The requirements of this subsection are applicable to all public, private, parochial and denominational schools located within this state. Nothing in this subsection creates a standard or requirement subject to state accountability measures.

• Your school may decide when to recognize Celebrate Freedom Week.
• Friday, September 17, 2021 is Constitution Day
  • Typically, counties celebrate the week 3rd or 4th week of September.
• Our Resource Guide may be obtained here.
National History Day

• This competition serves as a vehicle that facilitates a positive learning experience for students and fosters an environment that promotes the study of history in middle and high school students.

• It teaches skills of research, creativity, writing, editing, and critical thinking.
To create an entry, a student will choose one of the five NHD project categories:

Governor’s Honor Schools

• The West Virginia Department of Education is proud to offer stellar summer enrichment activities to West Virginia students in grades 7-12. All students applying for one of the state's Governor’s Schools must currently reside and attend school in West Virginia and plan to be a student the following year. This includes students in public and private schools as well as students who are home-schooled. Find more information at http://govschools.wv.gov.

• The Governor's Honors Academy (GHA) is for students who are currently high school juniors. In 2022, students will spend three weeks on a college campus learning, interacting, playing, and bonding with fellow outstanding West Virginia scholars. The site for 2022-2024 is to be determined.

• The Governor's School for the Arts (GSA) is for current high school sophomores who exhibit talent in the literary, performing and visual arts. Students attending the GSA are taught by practicing professionals in their respective fields of writing, dance, music, acting, and drawing/painting. The 2022 GSA will be held at Marshall University.

• The Governor's School of Entrepreneurship is for current 9th, 10th, and 11th graders who are interested in creating, inventing, and starting a business that can thrive and prosper in West Virginia. The 2022 GSE will be held on the campus of Marshall University.

• Governor's STEM Institute (formerly GSMS) is for students currently in the seventh or eighth grade. Students work with mentors and faculty on a specific research theme in a virtual laboratory or field setting. For current 7th graders, WVU will host two sessions of up to 48 students each.
  • Sixty students who 8th graders will spend 14 exciting days working in teams to search for answers about the universe. They will be directed by dedicated experts in radio astronomy from across the country. Dr. Sue Ann Heatherly, education officer at GBO is the dean.

All students applying for one of the state's Governor’s Schools must currently reside and attend school in West Virginia and plan to be a student the following year.
