

West Virginia Young Writers Contest Submission Directions 2023

How to Prepare and Submit Winning Entries and Winners' Information

Young Writers Coordinators are required to upload the entries of the six county winners and enter information about them to an online site (web address and directions in Part C). This accomplishes four important things:

- The online system verifies timely submission of all entries by the due date:
Monday, February 27, 2023.
- The digital files are submitted to an online anti-plagiarism tool.
- New this year: Permission Release Forms and Cover sheets will be submitted via Blackboard
- The electronic submission of contest materials reduces paper and the cost of mailing.

If you encounter difficulty or have questions about any part of this process, please contact Donna Atwood wallace742marshall.edu or 304-380-1437.

Part A. Collect the Cover Sheet and the Permission Release Form for each county winner.

1. Cover Sheets: County Coordinators should receive all completed cover sheets from the schools. Each cover sheet provides information about a winning student, including his or her, grade, school, teacher, and parent or guardian contact information. County Coordinator should scan and keep a copy of each form for records. That information will be submitted using an online form in the Marshall University Blackboard (MU Online) site following the steps in Part D of these directions.
2. Permission Release Form: All ORIGINAL signed forms for the winning students must be collected by the county coordinators. County coordinators should scan and keep a copy of each form for records. That information will be submitted using an online form in the Marshall University Blackboard (MU Online) site following the steps in Part D of these directions.
3. Note: Both the Cover Sheet and Permission Release Form will be submitted to one online form. You may attach several documents to a single online form. Please see Part D below.

Part B. Prepare each winning entry and save each as a Word document file.

Before submitting any entries online, the files must be prepared and saved properly. (County Coordinators may request that this be done by the winner's teacher and sent by email to the coordinator.)

1. Be sure that each winning entry has been saved as a Microsoft Word document. PDF files will not be accepted.
2. Each Word document should be formatted as follows:
 - a. Margins: 1" all around
 - b. Font: Times New Roman or Arial
 - c. Font Size: 12
 - d. Line Spacing: Double
3. Type the following information at the top left of the first page of the copy to be submitted electronically:
 - a. The title of the story
 - b. The level of the submission (such as Grade 1-2, Grade 3-4, etc.)

- c. Do NOT include any student name or other information.
- 4. Save each file using the name of the entry as the file name. Do not use any punctuation or spaces in the file name, as that could make the file unreadable in Blackboard, even if it works fine on your computer. The only punctuation in the file name should be the period supplied by the program (such as .doc or .docx).
 - a. For example, if the full title of the story is actually "Grandma's Cooking: A Li'l Pinch of Love," save the file as GrandmasCookingALilPinchofLove.
 - b. That will produce the file name GrandmasCookingALilPinchofLove.doc or GrandmasCookingALilPinchofLove.docx, depending on your version of Microsoft Word.
- 5. Save all the files in a folder that you can locate easily on your computer.

Part C. Log in to the Young Writers Contest Organization at Marshall University.
